Special Guest Speaker: Hon. Mary Robinson, Chair of the Elders, former President of Ireland, and former UN High Commissioner for Human Rights

Mary Robinson is a global leader on the most critical issues facing the contemporary world, including inter alia women’s equality, peacebuilding, human dignity, and climate justice. A founding member of the Elders, she was appointed Chair in November 2018, working to promote global peace and ethical leadership. She was elected Irish President in 1990 and served for seven years as a principled and transformative leader who fought for equality and women’s rights. She was the first Irish head of state to make official visits to Britain, as well as regularly visiting Northern Ireland. She was the first head of state to visit Somalia following the crisis there in 1992 and brought global media attention to the suffering of Rwandans as the first Head of State to visit the country after the 1994 genocide. As UN High Commissioner for Human Rights (1997-2002), Mary Robinson integrated human rights into the United Nations system and became renowned as an outspoken voice dedicated to investigating and exposing human rights abuses across the world. She founded Realizing Rights: The Ethical Globalization Initiative, which aimed to put human rights standards at the heart of global governance and to ensure that the needs of the poorest and most vulnerable are addressed on the global stage. In 1998 she was elected as Chancellor, Trinity College, University of Dublin. She co-founded the Council of Women World Leaders in 1996, a network that mobilizes women leaders at the highest levels to promote democracy and gender equality. She is a member and former president of the Club of Madrid, Among her many other leadership roles, she is a Board Member of the Mo Ibrahim Foundation. Among many awards, she was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom by President Barack Obama in 2009.

As a (photo)journalist, I hope to be able to seek the truth and observe the world, so that, through the lens of my camera, and through the power of words, I can document reality, giving the world a taste of what humanity is working towards, and bringing to the forefront some harsh realities that are taking place in the world. The concept of striving for excellence is something I am ever conscious of. Being born into a multicultural family made me love and become curious about how culture affects one’s perspective. My mother was born in Abadan, Iran, and my father in Belo Horizonte, Brazil – two different cities, countries, continents, and realities. Beyond these differences, they were united through their beliefs in the Bahá'í Faith- which was and continues to be the centre of their lives. In fact the Founder of the Bahai Faith, Bahá'u'lláh states: "The earth is but one country and mankind its citizens."

Ghana

Ayishetu Abdul-Kadiri

Ghana | Educationist/Chairperson, Faith in Ghana Alliance

My name is Ayishetu Abdul-Kadiri, a female born on 4th June, 1963. I am a retired educationist and a Ghanaian from West Africa. I am currently chairing a multi-faith organization in Ghana called the Faith in Ghana Alliance. I have a second degree, M. Phil in the Study of Religions, from the University of Ghana, Legon. I am a strong gender advocate for women and girls’ empowerment and development in relation to health, education, and environmental justice. Ghana is seriously affected by illegal mining, which is destroying water bodies and sources of potable drinking water for many rural communities. Women and girls are disproportionately affected as they have to walk long distances in search of water for the family. Hence, the intensive advocacy and education to protect the environment. Therefore, attending this conference will be an opportunity to share experiences and strengthen the value of sharing experiences to enhance and deepen the commitment to our purposeful action to promote holistic human development.
