THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON COHESIVE SOCIETIES

Cohesive Societies, Resilient Futures

Conference Booklet

Welcome to the International Conference on Cohesive Societies 2025!

Welcome to Singapore!

Thank you for joining us at the International Conference on Cohesive Societies (ICCS) 2025. This is the third edition of the ICCS conference series, since its inauguration in 2019.

The ICCS is a leading platform for multicultural and interfaith dialogue and solutioning. It aims to inspire conversations about how we can forge cohesive and resilient multicultural societies.

These conversations are timely and urgent as we navigate an increasingly complex world. In many parts of the world, trust in institutions has declined, cultural divides have deepened, and polarising forces continue to erode social trust. Yet, we believe these challenges are not insurmountable. Leaders and communities must remain committed to work together to confront these challenges.

ICCS 2025, themed “Cohesive Societies, Resilient Futures”, aims to champion this global endeavour to inspire hope, foster inclusion and build momentum towards building harmonious and resilient multicultural societies. This conference will bring together more than 1,100 policymakers, academics, and leaders from diverse civic and religious organisations across more than 50 countries to exchange insights and best practices on fostering harmony, mutual respect, and confidence in diverse communities.

We are especially honoured to host ICCS 2025 on the occasion of Singapore’s 60th year of independence. This milestone underscores the importance of multiculturalism and social cohesion to our identity as a young, multi-racial and multi-religious nation – and how they remain a continuous work in progress.

No society has all the answers to cohesion, but we believe that when people have a chance to learn from one another and realise that we have much in common, empathy and confidence between diverse communities will flourish. Our shared humanity can, and must, unite us against forces that seek to divide.

We hope you will find ICCS 2025 enriching and beneficial, and forge lasting friendships during your time in Singapore. Let us learn from one another,

Supported by the Ministry of Culture, Community and Youth, Singapore

The Ministry of Culture, Community and Youth (MCCY) seeks to inspire Singaporeans through the arts and sports, strengthen community bonds, and promote volunteerism and philanthropy. Since its inception in November 2012, MCCY has been actively engaging the arts, heritage, sports, and community and youth sectors. The Ministry aims to bring into sharper focus the efforts to build a more cohesive and vibrant society, and to deepen a sense of identity and belonging to the nation. MCCY works with its stakeholders to create an environment where Singaporeans can pursue their aspirations for a better quality of life and together, and build a gracious and caring society we are proud to call home.

ICCS 2025 Overview

Overview of the International Conference on Cohesive Societies 2025

Our increasingly complex world faces new challenges to cohesion, from shifting identities to rising uncertainties and deepening societal divides. Against this backdrop, ICCS 2025 will explore how multiculturalism, resilience, and dialogue can serve as foundations for harmony in diversity.

The ICCS 2025 conference is built around three thematic pillars — Unpacking Multiculturalism, Navigating Uncertainty, and Forging Societal Resilience — and features a series of plenaries, breakout discussions, and skills workshops. The plenaries will bring together leading thinkers and practitioners to reflect on the evolving dynamics of cohesion, while the breakout sessions will delve deeper into specific issues facing multicultural societies today.

New to ICCS 2025, skills workshops will equip participants with practical toolkits in areas such as futures skills, conflict resolution, and humanitarian action. The Showcase session will highlight real-world examples of how communities are igniting change at the grassroots level. Sharing sessions will also provide opportunities for delegates to discuss best practices and common challenges.

Youth voices will also take centerstage through a special youth-led plenary: “Cohesion Forward” and a dedicated Young Leaders Programme, underscoring the critical role of the next generation in forging resilient, inclusive societies.

Plenaries Overview

Special Presentation – Perspectives on Social Cohesion

Day 1

Fairmont Ballroom

This context-setting segment will establish a shared framework for understanding the complex notion of social cohesion and its role in society. It will explore key questions, including:

How should social cohesion be defined in today's world?

Are there universal principles of social cohesion, or are they shaped by local contexts?

Is social cohesion a fundamental goal of society, or a means to achieve broader societal objectives?

Speakers

Dr Catherine Fieschi

Fellow,
Robert Schuman Centre,
European University Institute

Prof Mike Hardy

Professor of Intercultural Relations,
Coventry University

Dr Aaron Maniam

Fellow of Practice and Director,
Digital Transformation
Education,

Moderator

Prof Katherine Marshall

Senior Fellow,
Berkley Center for Religion,
Peace & World Affairs

Plenary #1

Unpacking Multiculturalism

Day 1

Fairmont Ballroom

This session explores the historical forces and key conditions that have shaped contemporary multiculturalism and social cohesion. It will address the following questions:

How have significant events influenced today's discourse on multiculturalism and cohesion?

What domestic, global, and macro-level conditions have enabled multiculturalism to flourish?

What lessons can be drawn from societies that have successfully managed diversity and from those that have struggled?

Speakers

Prof Dr Nasaruddin Umar

Minister for Religious Affairs,
Indonesia and Grand Imam of Istiqlal Mosque

Mr Ed Williams

President, International,
Edelman

Prof Colleen Ward

Professor of Psychology,
Victoria University of Wellington

Moderator

Prof Farish Noor

Professor,
Universitas Islam Internasional
Indonesia

Plenary #2

Navigating Uncertainty

Day 2

Fairmont Ballroom

This session examines the emerging challenges that threaten multiculturalism and social cohesion, and explores how societies can navigate an increasingly complex future. It will address the following questions:

What emerging social groups, mindsets, and faultlines are shaping the future of cohesion?

What factors are driving the erosion of trust and confidence in diverse societies?

What is at stake in an increasingly fragmented and uncertain environment?

Speakers

Mr Peter Ho

Senior Advisor, Centre for Strategic Futures, and former Head of Civil Service, Singapore

Mr Ahmed Aboutaleb

Former Mayor of Rotterdam

Mr Fadi Chehade

Founder of EthosCapital

Moderator

Prof Kumar Ramkrishna

Dean, RSIS, NTU

Plenary #3

Forging Societal Resilience

Day 3

Fairmont Ballroom

This session explores the policy tools, community initiatives, and societal strategies that can bridge divides and foster resilience, even in the aftermath of conflict. It will address the following questions:

How can we tackle multicultural challenges together and work across different faiths and values?

What political systems or structures can mend faultlines, ease tensions, and promote a more inclusive social compact?

How can we rethink the role of technology to strengthen social connections and cohesion?

Speakers

Mr Dinesh Vasu Dash

Minister of State, Ministry of Culture, Community and Youth, Singapore

Mr Ho KwonPing

Founder and Executive Chairman, Banyan Group

Venerable Napan Thawornbanjob

Southeast Asian Social Cohesion Radar 2025

Day 2

Fairmont Ballroom

This session presents key findings from the second edition of the Southeast Asian Social Cohesion Radar, building on the inaugural study launched at ICCS 2022. It explores the factors that underpin social cohesion across ASEAN states and highlights commonalities and differences across the region. Key questions include:

What factors hold societies together within ASEAN states?

Which dimensions of social cohesion contribute most to overall cohesion?

What elements of cohesion are shared across ASEAN?

Speakers

Dr Leong Chan-Hoong

Senior Fellow and Head of Social Cohesion Research Programme, RSIS; Principal Investigator for the 2025 SEA Social Cohesion Radar

Prof Paul Hedges

Professor of Interreligious Studies, Studies in Inter-religious Relations in Plural Societies Programme, RSIS

Prof Farish Noor

Professor Universitas Islam Internasional Indonesia

Moderator

Mr Warren Fernandez

Senior Fellow, RSIS, NTU

Breakout Panel Sessions

ICCS 2025 offers the following breakout sessions that feature in-depth discussions on aspects across the three pillars.

Unpacking Multiculturalism

Breakout #1

Is history a compass for navigation or a barrier to a more inclusive future?

Day 1, Fairmont Ballroom

People from diverse communities have interacted with one another since human civilisations. The long, shared history however does not always progress to having a better understanding between sectarian groups. In periods of economic uncertainties and rapid changes, some societies have fractured along racial and religious lines, while others have flourished through shared values and mutually agreed ways of life. This breakout will discuss how nations can anchor on common national legacies for the future, and what are the conditions that have enabled multicultural societies to be optimistic and cohesive.

Speakers

Ms Lee Huay Leng

Editor-in-Chief,
Chinese Media Group, SPH Media

Prof Noorhaidi Hassan

Rector,
Universitas Islam Negeri Sunan Kalijaga
Yogyakarta

Moderator

Venerable Chuan Sheng

Vice-Rector,
Buddhist College of Singapore

Breakout #2

What conditions promote respect, togetherness and success?

Day 1, Olivia Room

How can we foster a growing sense of togetherness in an increasingly diverse and connected world? What kind of social compact is needed to bring state, institutions, and sectarian groups together? How may we build multi-ethnic cohesion and ensure every community thrive in-spite of cultural, religious, and economic differences? The speakers will share their perspectives on creating environments that promote inclusion, trust, and collective well-being.

Speakers

Prof John W. Berry

Professor Emeritus,
Queen's University, Canada

Rev Indunil Kodithuwakku

Secretary,
Dicastery for Interreligious Dialogue, Vatican

Moderator

Ms Michelle Tay

Executive Director,
Singapore Kindness Movement

Unpacking Multiculturalism

Breakout #3

Stories that inspire multicultural inclusion and shared purpose

Case studies offer powerful lessons on how cohesion can be forged even if the environment is less than conducive. This session highlights practical insights about building bridges between evolving cultures. Their stories showcase some of the best practices in multi-racial and multi-religious societies, and the innovative strategies that have proven effective in uplifting and empowering vulnerable minority groups. Importantly, the sharing highlight how empathy and understanding can be fostered even if people have different convictions and perspectives of what a good society is.

Day 1, Sophia Room

Speakers

Dr. Khalil Abdur-Rashid

Chair of the Board of Religious, Spiritual & Ethical Life and Muslim Chaplain, Harvard University

Prof Harvey Whitehouse

Director, Centre for the Study of Social Cohesion, University of Oxford

Moderator

Mr Mohamed Irshad

Founder, Roses of Peace

Navigating Uncertainty

Breakout #4

Fostering a resilient digital ecosystem in a multicultural society

Rapid technological advancements have given rise to unique challenges and opportunities to strengthening our multi-ethnic and multi-religious fabric. While the advent of artificial intelligence and social media platforms have contributed to cyber harms in the form of misinformation, deep fake, and digital abuse, there is also evidence that its potential can be harnessed to grow a stronger, more resilient society. This session brings together speakers who understand how technology can elevate social trust, foster healthy information ecosystems, and expand future possibilities for all.

Day 2, Fairmont Ballroom

Speakers

Mr Benjamin Lee

Head of Commercial and Marketing, Beach House Labs

Mr Andri Kusumo

Engagement Lead, Trust & Safety, APAC, Google

Moderator

Mr Benjamin Ang

Senior Fellow and Head of Center of Excellence for National Security, RSIS, NTU

Navigating Uncertainty

Breakout #5

Revamping cultural and social institutions to engage new cultural identities

As globalisation and digital connectivity redefine our way of life, new cultural clusters are emerging, and their distinct identities have challenged the dynamics between communities, heritage maintenance, and our sense of belonging to the broader society and country. This session delves into the psychological, cultural, and political factors driving these shifts. The speakers will examine what are new affiliations, the implications to plural societies, and how we engage new groups and navigate cultural sensitivities.

Day 2, Olivia Ballroom

Speakers

Prof Farish Noor

Professor,
Universitas Islam Internasional Indonesia

Dr Caroline Ng Tseung-Wong

Senior Lecturer, University of Canberra

Moderator

Dr Leong Chan-Hoong

Senior Fellow and Head of Social Cohesion
Research Programme, RSIS, NTU

Breakout #6

Fighting extremism and polarisation together as one people

Extremism and polarisation pose significant threats to social cohesion, eroding trust and dividing communities. This session explores the underlying drivers for these primordial instincts, and as a society, the collective strategies that we can embrace to mitigate against these forces. Experts and practitioners will share insights into tackling divisive narratives, fostering inclusive dialogues, and building resilience against ideological divides.

Day 2, Sophia Room

Speakers

Rabbi Silvina Chemen

Vice Rector, Abarbanel University
Institute, and Director,
Center for Dialogue and Social Action,
Marshall T. Meyer Latin American
Rabbinical Seminary

Prof Mike Hardy CMG OBE FRSA

Professor of Intercultural Relations,
Coventry University

Moderator

Prof Paul Hedges

Professor of Interreligious Studies,
Studies in Inter-religious Relations
in Plural Societies Programme, RSIS, NTU

Forging Societal Resilience

Breakout #7

Expanding our common space through everyday multiculturalism

Multiculturalism is not just about having different communities coexist together. It is also about appreciating and embracing the ambivalence of diversity, identifying the shared rituals, and agreeing on what should be the way of life for all. This session explores how mutual understanding and respect can be fostered in our mundane routines, and how harmony can be forged with simple gestures and day to day activities. The speakers will flesh out the intricacies of bonding between immigrant and receiving societies in two large European cities, and how social resilience can be strengthened against rising xenophobia.

Day 3, Fairmont Ballroom

Speakers

Prof Katy Bennett

Professor of Human Geography,
University of Leicester

Prof Susanne Wessendorf

Professor of Social Anthropology,
Institute of Peace and Security,
Coventry University

Moderator

Dr Selvaraj Velayutham

Associate Professor of Sociology,
School of Communication, Society and Culture,
Macquarie University

Breakout #8

Rebuilding trust and cohesion after social tragedies

Natural and man-made disasters have a long and deep impact on the psychological and communal fabric of a society. This challenge is more acute in a diverse society where the quality of multicultural contact and trust form the bedrock of stability. As such, post-crises management and the successful rebuilding of societies are vital to uplift and maintain cohesive and resilient societies in the face of devastations. This session examines the multifaceted approach to disaster recovery, how to address both immediate and long-term challenges, and discuss the role of the humanitarian sectors, governments, and the public.

Day 3, Olivia Room

Speakers

Datu Mussolini Sinsuat Lidasan

Executive Director, Al Qalam Institute,
Ateneo de Davao University

Mr Rakesh Naidoo MNZM

Superintendent & National
Partnerships Manager,
New Zealand Police

Moderator

Dr Alistair Cook

Senior Fellow and Coordinator of the Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster
Relief Programme, RSIS

Skills Workshops

Skills Workshops

At ICCS 2025, we are excited to offer a series of interactive skills workshops designed to equip participants with the tools to foster understanding, build trust, and navigate the complexities of today's diverse world. These workshops reflect our shared commitment to building societies that are not only resilient but also empathetic, forward-looking, and united in diversity.

Participants will explore critical topics such as:

Polarities, Not Polarisation

Introduction to “polarity thinking”, an approach to divisive issues that crafts “yes-and”, mutually collaborative responses, celebrating societal range and diversity instead of assuming that divisions between communities are inevitable and negative.

Conducted by

Dr Aaron Maniam
Blavatnik School of Government,
University of Oxford

Day 1 and 2,
Indiana-Minto Rooms

Futures Skills

Learn how to apply foresight tools – especially the Futures Triangle – to systematically explore the drivers, constraints, and possible futures of social cohesion in their communities.

Conducted by

Ms Cheryl Chung
Tent Futures

Day 1 and 2,
Morrison Room

Developing Civic Conversational Skills

Develop the ability to facilitate impactful conversations between individuals who may have diverse opinions or who may come from different backgrounds.

Conducted by

Mr Mohamed Imran Mohamed Taib
Dialogue Centre

Day 1 and 2,
Moor Room

Conflict Resolution Fundamental Skills

Learn the fundamentals of conflict resolution including identifying interests and bargaining positions and facilitating win-win outcomes.

Conducted by

Ms Wu Ye-Min and Ms Theerada Suphaphong
Centre for Humanitarian Dialogue

Day 1 and 2,
Mercury-Enterprise
Rooms

Humanitarian Compass: Values and Actions in a Turbulent World

Introduction to the global humanitarian ecosystem, and understand how to act with compassion and solidarity in crises.

Conducted by

Mr Sahari Ani
Singapore Red Cross Academy

Day 1 and 2,
Hullet Room

Sharing Perspectives

Sharing Perspectives: Conversations for a Cohesive Future

ICCS 2025 will feature new sharing sessions that provide a platform for delegates to engage in meaningful discussions on issues that resonate deeply within their communities. Organised thematically and facilitated by a subject expert, the sessions encourage candid conversations, the exchange of diverse perspectives, and the co-creation of actionable ideas.

Conversing Better: Broadening and Fostering Inclusive Dialogue

Facilitator
Mr Mohamed Imran
Mohamed Taib
Director,
Dialogue Centre

Day 3,
Enterprise Room

In a world that is becoming increasingly polarised, the importance of dialogue in bridging differences cannot be understated. This session seeks to explore ways in which dialogue can be made more inclusive. Specifically, delegates are encouraged to discuss how we might engage more communities, such as the non-religious. Delegates can also reflect upon and discuss norms that can facilitate healthy and open dialogue.

2.

Enhancing Outreach: Educating and Rallying For Good

Facilitator
Dr William Wan
Managing Director,
Fervent Chambers

Day 3,
Mercury Room

Good causes can go further and achieve more when it is amplified and awareness is effectively raised. Educating and rallying others can encourage more to participate in the cause and galvanise meaningful change. This session explores the best practices for outreach across platforms and audience segments. By the end of the session, it is hoped that delegates will be inspired to augment their outreach efforts to reach a wider audience and boost the impact of their existing work.

3.

Moderating Conversations on Social Media

Facilitator

Mr Malminderjit Singh

Chair, Sikh Advisory Board

With the surge of conversations online, especially on social media, there is greater risk of misunderstandings that may extend to inter-group tensions. This session will explore how individuals and organisations can respond effectively to such conversations, especially when encountering differing opinions and viewpoints. Delegates will have the opportunity to discuss strategies and opportunities for moderating uncomfortable interactions online, especially on social media, preventing escalation, and maintaining a respectful environment that minimises harm to communities.

Day 3,

Indiana Room

4.

Uplifting Spirits: Recovery, Remembrance and Resilience

Facilitator

Mr Hassan Ahmad

Special Advisor,
Humanity Matters

While building social cohesion is crucial to preventing conflicts, some challenges, such as volatile geopolitical environments and natural disasters, are beyond our control. Recovery goes beyond providing immediate assistance; it also involves rebuilding and restoring the spirits of affected communities. This can include honouring the memory of those who have suffered or uplifting those affected through arts and sports. This session offers delegates a platform to discuss how uplifting spirits, remembrance, and positive storytelling play vital roles in recovery and social cohesion in difficult times.

Day 3,

Minto Room

Showcase

Showcase

Day 3,
Sophia Ballroom

ICCS 2025 will feature the conference will feature a showcase segment featuring inspiring community leaders who strengthen social cohesion through education and arts. Speakers will share their initiatives that bridge cultural divides, foster interfaith understanding, and empower grassroots movements.

Community Exploration

The Community Exploration is an immersive programme that gives local and international delegates a firsthand look at Singapore's approach to multicultural and interreligious harmony. By engaging with local communities and exploring Singapore's diverse neighborhoods, delegates will gain invaluable insights into how social cohesion is fostered and how diverse faith and cultural practices enrich life in a vibrant, multicultural society.

Community Exploration 2025 will be held in the evenings of 24 and 25 June 2025 after the day's proceedings, with four concurrent sessions per day.

Programme Overview

Day 1

Sri Mariamman Temple and Masjid Jamae Chulia

This segment of the journey will explore two of Singapore's oldest religious landmarks, located in the heart of Chinatown. At Sri Mariamman Temple, Singapore's oldest Hindu temple, visitors will witness the Dravidian architecture and participate in understanding Hindu rituals and traditions. Just a short walk away, Masjid Jamae Chulia, one of the earliest mosques in Singapore, offers a contrast with its Islamic architecture and history of the Muslim community in Singapore.

Singapore Chinese Cultural Centre

At the Singapore Chinese Cultural Centre, the learning journey will uncover the unique Chinese Singaporean culture. Participants will engage with exhibitions that reveal the traditions, practices, and contributions of the Chinese community in Singapore. The centre's programs and activities aim to foster greater appreciation of the Chinese arts and culture that have shaped the nation's multicultural tapestry.

Our Tampines Hub

Our Tampines Hub is a vibrant community and lifestyle destination that reflects the heartland's spirit. The learning journey here will cover the various facilities and initiatives that promote multiculturalism and community bonding. Visitors will experience how the hub serves as a model for future community spaces in fostering social harmony and inclusivity.

Kampong Gelam Heritage District

Kampong Gelam Heritage District is a historical gem that stands as a testament to Singapore's Malay heritage and its early Islamic history. The learning journey through this vibrant district will immerse visitors in the rich tapestry of Malay culture, arts, and traditions. This visit to Kampong Gelam will highlight the importance of preserving cultural heritage while embracing modernity, and how it contributes to the multicultural landscape of Singapore.

Day 2

National Gallery Singapore

National Gallery Singapore is a treasure trove of Southeast Asian art, housed in two national monuments. The learning journey here will cover the world's largest public collection of Singaporean and Southeast Asian art, spanning the 19th century to present day. Visitors will gain an understanding of the region's rich cultural heritage through the visual arts, and how it has evolved over time.

Indian Heritage Centre

The Indian Heritage Centre offers a deep dive into the rich history and culture of the Indian community in Singapore. Visitors will explore four floors of interactive exhibits, showcasing artifacts and stories from the diaspora's past to the present. The journey will cover the contributions of the Indian community to Singapore's nation-building and provide insights into traditional Indian arts, such as dance and music.

One Punggol

One Punggol is set to be a landmark for community engagement and integration. The learning journey will showcase how this development brings together residents of different backgrounds through its integrated community and lifestyle facilities. Participants will learn about the innovative approaches to community building and the promotion of a kampung spirit in a modern setting.

Community Law Centre @ Tian De Temple

The Community Law Centre at Tian De Temple represents a unique blend of legal aid within a religious institution. Visitors will learn about the temple's history and its role in the community, as well as how the law centre provides accessible legal services and promotes understanding of legal rights among residents. This visit will highlight the collaboration between religious organizations and social services to support the community.

Young Leaders Programme

Organised in conjunction with the ICCS, the Young Leaders Programme (YLP) is a dynamic platform for the emerging local and international leaders to network, ideate and collaborate on initiatives that strengthen social cohesion. The YLP connects young leaders from Southeast Asia and beyond, fostering a vibrant community where ideas are shared, skills are honed, and confidence is built to address social cohesion challenges. YLP harnesses the energy and creativity of youth to drive practical solutions and contribute meaningfully to building a more cohesive and resilient society.

YLP 2025 will focus on experiential and interactive learning sessions where youths across the world get to exchange unique cultures, share fresh perspectives, and ideate innovative approaches to foster cohesion and harmony. Through working with select youth alumni as part of the YLP 2025 Working Committee and involving YLP delegates as co-creators of the programme, we also support youth leadership and their development.

YLP Programme Overview

YLP Day 1

Cultural Exchange

Join us for a vibrant evening where cultures converge and connect! This unique networking event brings together international delegates for an enriching experience of cultural exchange and showcase.

YLP Day 2

Experiential Learning and Ideation Opportunities

YLP's experiential learning programmes like interactive theatre and YLP Working Comm-led breakout activities immerse delegates in real-world scenarios, turning theory into practice. Through hands-on activities, delegates will gain practical insights and develop critical problem-solving skills.

YLP Forum Theatre Experience

To encourage insightful participation and reflections, YLP delegates will go through a forum theatre experience, an interactive theatre that allows audience to participate in the performance by suggesting changes in the action or even stepping in as actors to alter the course of the story. Delegates will be engaged in post-forum theatre reflections facilitated via a civic conversation toolkit.

YLP Breakout Sessions

1. Volunteer Quest: Expedition of Harmony

Be transported into an immersive, narrative-driven environment where you will explore the intersectionality of volunteerism, race, and religion through real-world challenges. In this breakout room activity, you will solve puzzles, decode clues, and brainstorm solutions while deepening your understanding of these complex themes. This experience will challenge you to think critically, act empathetically, and collaborate effectively to create meaningful change.

2. “Act” Against Disunity

In a diverse society like Singapore, maintaining peace and harmony requires active effort and understanding. This dynamic engagement will immerse participants in evolving scenarios where social harmony is disrupted by racial, religious, or community-based tensions. Participants will be assigned roles as key stakeholders—community leaders, government officials, affected individuals, bystanders, and media representatives. As the scenarios unfold with new developments and escalating challenges, you must take strategic actions to de-escalate conflicts, mediate disputes, and implement long-term solutions.

3. Grand Challenges: Faith in action scenarios for a more resilient tomorrow

In an increasingly diverse yet divided world, interfaith engagement is crucial for building cohesive and resilient multicultural societies. This participant-led scenario-based breakout session empowers you to take ownership of interfaith dialogue and action. Through interactive discussions, real-world case studies, and scenario-based problem-solving, you will explore current and future interfaith challenges—from misinformation and religious discrimination to the ethics of AI and faith. You will collaborate to design solutions and commit to tangible actions that foster inclusion, mutual understanding, and social cohesion.

4. Soundscapes of Religions in Singapore Experiential Exhibition

Soundscapes of Religions in Singapore is an experiential exhibition that takes participants through an immersive experience of sounds associated with faith communities in Singapore. The exhibition features guided tours that will incorporate meditation practices, hands-on activity with religious musical instruments, panel explanations on sacred sounds in different religious traditions, and an interactive performance featuring a cultural performance group where participants are welcomed to join in the fun!

Participating partners include:
Dialogue Centre, Singapore

YLP Ideation Pitch

A slot is already carved out for delegates to transform inspiration into action through our brainstorming session where delegates will get to collaborate in teams, share diverse perspectives on fostering harmony and develop practical, innovative ideas for community engagement and create actionable plans for cultural bridge-building.

YLP Heartlands Experience

Experience Singapore's multicultural tapestry through curated heritage trails and learning journeys, where delegates navigate through vibrant heartlands to witness how shared spaces foster community bonds and celebrate our multicultural identity. YLP Heartlands Experience will be held in the evening of 27 June 2025 after the day's proceedings, with 5 concurrent sessions.

1. Wok and Walk: Uncovering Chinatown's Hidden Tales

Ready to unlock the secrets of Chinatown? Embark on an epic adventure to the heart of the district and uncover its rich multicultural elements, from architectural wonders to hidden food treasures! Be part of a mission to level up your cultural experience by exploring the rich stories of Chinese settlers while immersing yourself in Chinatown's vibrancy that makes it so unique.

2. HELL-O: To hell and beyond!

Ever wondered what it was like to set foot in Hell's Nether Realms? Leave the mortal world behind as we take you on an epic expedition to uncover the courts of hell! This mind-bending journey is like no other as you learn what different cultures believe about the afterlife – from spirit worlds and graphic descriptions of the divine. Think you're up for this underworldly adventure? Cross over and join us!

3. Tekk-a Cultural Trip: Where every corner carries a tale

Interested in uncovering the captivating charm of Little India? Now's your chance to power up your senses with a flavourful cultural expedition, where you can immerse yourself in the bustling atmosphere and explore charming traditional shops and savour authentic local delights. An unforgettable blend of culture, history, and local life awaits as Little India's vibrant flavours come to life!

4. Gelam-orous Art and Culture: The hippest Kampung story in town

Embark on a magical adventure through Kampung Gelam, where traditional heritage meets modern vibrancy! Level up your cultural adventure by uncovering the beauty and intrigue of Singapore's historic Malay-Muslim quarter, from traditional heritage shophouses to legendary Middle Eastern and Malay flavours.

5. Kueh-munity Spirit: Sweet Heritage Stories

Hop on our journey through the charming enclaves of Katong and Joo Chiat, where the rich traditions of straits-born culture come alive! Unlock the neighbourhood's hidden treasures by exploring the unique blend of Chinese, Malay and European influences on traditional crafts and vibrant architectures unique to the Peranakan and Eurasian enclave. Don't miss this chance to level up your cultural adventure and try some local kuehs (bite-sized snacks/desserts) while you're there!

YLP Day 3

This interactive session synthesises insights from ICCS main conference and YLP sessions. Facilitated by USC-CRCC, this closing workshop will help bridge the gap between knowledge & skillsets gleaned across the whole conference and actual practices, helping YLP delegates connect classroom concepts with real-world applications.

Participating partners include:
Center for Religion and Civic Culture, University of Southern California, United States of America

Visit Singapore

Sentosa Island

Before it was known as Sentosa, this island just off Singapore's southern coast was a British military fortress. After the Japanese Occupation in World War II, Singapore returned to British rule, and the island was renamed "Sentosa" which means "peace and tranquility" in Malay.

Over the course of its remarkable history, Sentosa has transformed into a beloved island resort, best known for its tropical beaches, luxurious hotels and thrilling attractions. Whether you're looking for an adrenaline rush or a day of relaxing in the sun, Sentosa is bound to enchant and delight.

Visit Singapore

Mandai Wildlife Reserve

Mandai Wildlife Reserve is home to a remarkable collection of world-class wildlife parks, including the Singapore Zoo, Bird Paradise, Night Safari, River Wonders and Rainforest Wild Asia.

Together, these five parks are seamlessly integrated to offer immersive nature-based experiences, lush green spaces, and an eco-friendly resort, creating a haven where people and wildlife can connect.

Driven by a vision of thriving wildlife and sustainable communities, Mandai Wildlife Reserve is dedicated to inspiring a deeper appreciation for nature, promoting sustainable living, and supporting vital conservation efforts to protect wildlife and their habitats for generations to come.

Visit Singapore

Gardens by the Bay

It's hard to miss the sprawling 101-hectare lot right by the water in Marina Bay. Two huge futuristic structures rise out of the greenery at Gardens by the Bay, which was designed with environmental sustainability in mind.

These are the Flower Dome and the Cloud Forest cooled conservatories, which was listed in the 2015 Guinness World Records as the world's largest glass greenhouse. The freestanding unsupported glass roofs enclose expansive spaces, unmarred by any pillar or column.

Besides ultra-modern design, the conservatories also use cutting-edge technologies for better energy efficiency.

Visit Singapore

National Gallery Singapore

The latest jewel in Singapore's art crown, the National Gallery Singapore is a visual arts institution housing an unparalleled collection of modern Singapore and Southeast Asian art.

Fittingly located in the heart of the Civic District, the Gallery is housed in the City Hall and the former Supreme Court — two iconic buildings that have played a monumental role in Singapore's history. Utmost care was taken to ensure that preservation guidelines for these two national monuments were being upheld even as they were being remodelled into a state-of-the-art museum for the public.

When he retired from the Singapore Administrative Service in 2010 after a career in the Public Service stretching more than 34 years, he was Head, Civil Service, concurrent with his other appointments of Permanent Secretary (Foreign Affairs), Permanent Secretary (National Security & Intelligence Coordination), and Permanent Secretary (Special Duties) in the Prime Minister's Office. Before that, he was Permanent Secretary (Defence). He was also the inaugural Chairman of the Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore.

Mr Ahmed Aboutaleb

Former Mayor of Rotterdam

Over the years, Ahmed Aboutaleb has established himself as a dedicated public servant who strives to create a city — and a society — where everyone can thrive regardless of their background. His tenure in Rotterdam has been marked by firm yet empathetic leadership: he is known for promoting social cohesion and encouraging dialogue between diverse groups.

Born in Beni Sidel, in the Moroccan province of Nador, he moved to the Netherlands at the age of sixteen. He settled in The Hague, where he continued his education and earned an engineering degree in electrical engineering with a specialisation in telecommunications. Following his studies, he embarked on a career in journalism, working with renowned Dutch media outlets such as NOS and RTL. This period provided him with invaluable insights into Dutch society's complexities and laid the groundwork for his future in public service.

In the early 2000s, Aboutaleb decided to step into public service. He joined the Labour Party (PvdA) and served as an alderman in the city of Amsterdam from 2004 to 2007, focusing on issues like education and youth policy. Recognized for his ability to bridge cultural divides, he was appointed State Secretary for Social Affairs and Employment in the fourth Balkenende cabinet in 2007. During this time, he worked on policies to improve the social integration and economic participation of marginalised communities.

In 2009, Aboutaleb made history as the first mayor of a major European city with a Moroccan immigrant background. His leadership in Rotterdam has brought him widespread national and international acclaim. In 2021, he was honored with the title of "Best Mayor in the World". Shortly before stepping down, he was appointed Commander of the Order of Orange-Nassau and received the prestigious Johan van Oldenbarnevelt Medal, celebrating his unwavering dedication to the city and its residents.

Ahmed Aboutaleb is a highly regarded and internationally respected leader, distinguished by his decisive and inclusive approach to governance. His ability to unite diverse communities and tackle complex challenges with empathy and foresight has firmly established him as one of the world's most respected and influential leaders.

Breakout #4: Fostering a resilient digital ecosystem in a multicultural society

Mr Benjamin Lee
Head of Commercial &
Marketing
Beach House Labs

Benjamin “Mr Miyagi” Lee is one of the founding fathers of Singapore’s online space, wreaking havoc and compelling content for the last two decades. A “platform-agnostic” storyteller, he has since lent his expertise to helping brands and organisations communicate effectively through every platform and touchpoint available to them.

Benjamin is a firm believer in couching facts and information in story-driven narratives, which have proven to be key drivers in effective communication and brand growth. Clients across various verticals such as finance, automotive, hospitality, FMCG and especially the public sector have benefited from his approach in strategic and tactical communications.

Recent campaigns and projects include helming “Catch”, the content arm of the National Arts Council, and producing Let’s Begin, a first-ever documentary about the next generation of cabinet ministers of Singapore, and another key first – reframing the recruitment campaign for the Prime Minister’s Science & Technology Policy & Plans Office, known as CTRL+Shift.
